The city band gave a minstrel show in the opera house on Wednesday and Thursday evening. Everything was up-to-date and witty. The songs were new and excellently rendered, and the city band orchestra kept their old time reputation for playing nice music. A snug little sum was cleared up for the benefit of the band.

Frank Osmer, who was very seriously hurt while coasting on his bicycle in New York state, is still in a very precarious condition. His mother and sister left on Friday last to assist in caring for him, and on Wednesday his father and brother Bert went to Gotham in response to a telegram stating that he was much worse.

The late Milo Rowley carried $3,000 insurance in the A. O. U. W. Before his death it is claimed he assigned the policy, which was made payable to his wife, to one of his creditors. The grand lodge refused to pay the claim, but turned the money over to the Wayne circuit court, pending a decision. The case was heard Wednesday and a verdict rendered in favor of Mrs. Rowley.

Yesterday afternoon as Wm. Sturtevant was out driving with his black span of horses, he was the victim of an accident which might have proved fatal. The horses became playful and one of them kicked over the buggy pole, causing them both to start running. When in front of J. H. Robbins' residence on Main street they collided with a telephone pole. A piece of the buggy pole flew and struck Mr. Sturtevant a glancing blow in the pit of the stomach. The team then continued down Main street and went directly to the Exchange hotel barn. Mr. Sturtevant is not thought to be seriously injured.

—is a—

TOP COAT.

His suit may be warm enough during the day, but the early mornings and late evenings demand a Top Coat.

In no other garment is style so essential and the lack of it so apparent as in a Top Coat.
